THE CITY.

The Belle Lee.

The Belle Lee will be sold Saturday by order of the Louisville Chancery Court.

Attempted Suicide.

James Weston, an octogenarian, jumped from a steamboat into the river at Cincinnati yesterday. He was fished out alive, but refused to assign reasons for his mad attempt.

DePauw House.

This well-known hotel, in New Albany, has been recently refitted and furnished for the accommodation of guests. Capt. J. C. Bentley, the proprietor, is well known about the falls as a No. 1 commander and most clever gentleman.

Basket Picnic.

The Terpsichorean Club will give a select basket picnic, on the 5th of July, at Miller's Grove. This promises to be a delightful affair. Tickets may be obtained of E. Linneman, at Kitzler's store, corner of Center and Chestnut streets.

Illust Distilling.

Marion Vanderpool and William Taylor were brought here and placed in jail yesterday, by a deputy U. S. Marshal, charged with having been engaged in the distilling business illicitly, in Whitley and Laurel counties. The time for their trial has not yet been fixed by the U. S. District Court.

Female Thief.

Several days since one Mary Jane Smith stole five dollars from a lady who lives near the Beargrass bridge, in the East End. An officer was informed of the theft, and the description and name of the thief given. This morning officers Antle, Risley and Hines, who had been on the look-out for Mary (who had stolen the money) several days, found her sitting serenely in one corner of the witnesses' room of the city courthouse. They took her in custody and placed her in the jail to answer.

Run Over.

A lad named James Palmer, aged about 6 or 7 years, was run over by an express wagon at the corner of Market and Tenth this morning while attempting to cross the street in that locality. The boy was severely injured, his left side being cut and bruised in a horrible manner, and other parts of his person were seriously injured. The accident, it is said, was not through any negligence or carelessness on the part of the driver of the wagon, as he says he did not see the lad until he had run over him.

Crab Orchard.

The warm term is now fairly upon us, and those who are not compelled to remain at home and endure the heat, are either looking around for a cool place among the hills or have already gone in search of one. To the first-named class we would again recommend Crab Orchard Springs, which is one of the most delightful watering places in the West, and which now invites both the sick and the mere pleasure seeker to come away from the dust and heat of the city—the fine mineral waters and pure mountain air, and the other to be made content and happy by the gay company there assembled.

St. Joseph's Orphan Society.

One of the most praiseworthy charitable institutions of our city is the St. Joseph's Orphan Society, located at the corner of Jackson and Green streets. At present there are over one hundred little orphans in the asylum, being fed, clothed and educated by this noble society. During the month of July a general collection will be taken up in all the Catholic churches of the city for the benefit of this institution. We know of no charity which should recommend itself more strongly to the sympathy and generosity of the people than the claims of these orphans. Let the appeals of the trustees of the institution to the churches be answered promptly with munificent donations and contributions.

James H. Spratt.

This man was presented before the City Court yesterday to answer to a charge of forging the names of Gen. Humphrey Marshall and Col. Clarence Prentice to his bond as solicitor for the Equitable Life Insurance Company. Upon investigation it was ascertained that Spratt had obtained money upon the name of Col. Prentice only, and that the papers upon which he was arrested and presented to court, were in some way informal, hence he was discharged. Col. Prentice not being present. Detective Bligh immediately re-arrested him for the forgery of Col. Prentice's name to the bond referred to above, and also to another he had given to the Globe Mutual Insurance Company. The case was presented in the City Court this morning, and by permission, continued two days. Spratt gave bond to answer to a charge of forgery.

There is now on exhibition at the gallery of Escott & Son, on Main street, near Third, one of the finest pictures of modern times. It is the culminating work of Mr. Jas. H. Beard, an artist who has more faithfully devoted his life to his own ideas of art than almost any American painter. The subject is the stock farm of Robert Alexander, of Woodford county. This is portrayed upon a canvas of fifteen feet by seven, and embraces the homestead in the distance, a view of the rich old blue-grass pastures, which are the boast and the glory of old Kentucky; and in the foreground the horses, bulls, cows and sheep, which are so well known to all stock raisers in this country. The subject has been handled by Mr. Beard in what art critics would call a realistic manner. That is to say the animals and the figures do not appear to have been brought to the canvass, but to have come there of their own volition. The artist has not obtruded. He has told his story, and he himself is not to be considered. The picture is absolutely true. Old Lexington, blind, but evidently conscious of his well-earned laurels; Planet, Asteroid and Australian, led or ridden by their grooms, are before you fresh from the hand of their careful tenders, their sleek coats shining in the sunlight, and each animal standing as rotund and perfect as if seen through a telescope. Then comes the cattle. The old Royal Oxford, the famous Durham bull, overlooks the herd. Every one who knows anything of art has heard of "Paul Potter's bull." It is one of the great paintings of the world. In our judgment, Beard's bull, in this picture, certainly equals, and in some respects surpasses, Potter's. Near to Beard's picture is a painting of a bull by Tom of Brussels, also celebrated in Europe as an animal painter. Judges of art can compare the two, and decide on their respective merits.

Some sheep, a shepherd's dog, in the middle ground the blooded mares Bayleaf and Idlewild with their colts, and surveying the whole group, the two brothers Alexander complete the picture. Our space will not suffice to give in one issue all our views in regard to this magnificent work of art. At a future day we shall have more to say of its characteristics. At present we can only say that it will be criminal in any intelligent person to neglect the opportunity to see the picture.

Damon and Pythias.

Several evenings since a fisherman was crossing the river in a skiff, some miles below the city, and had nearly reached shore when he heard a cry of "Help!" which proceeded from the middle of the stream. He stopped pulling at his oars a moment, listened, and, not hearing the cry repeated, again took up the oars and proceeded on his way. He had gone but a few yards, however, before the piteous appeal of "Help!" again reached his ears. He could not be mistaken this time, he thought, and at once rounded his craft, and heading it toward the middle of the river, from whence the cries had proceeded, and pulled with all his might in that direction. After going about one hundred yards, he stopped to peer through the fast deepening twilight. A little way off he discovered two young boys floundering about in the water. Near them was a very diminutive boat floating upside down, from which they had evidently been capsize. The kind-hearted fisherman at once set about rescuing them, and after a short but painful struggle, he succeeded in pulling both of the boys into his boat—one almost unconscious and the other totally so. As soon as the first could comprehend his situation he asked earnestly, "Where is my chum?" Becoming satisfied of his safety, he evinced no more concern about the accident, closed his eyes, and sinking down in the bottom of the boat, apparently slept. After using all the means at his command, the fisherman finally succeeded in resuscitating the other lad, who, upon opening his eyes, wildly and anxiously exclaimed, "Where is my chum?" Such self-forgetfulness is rarely witnessed in lads of ten and twelve years, as in this instance, and we regret that our informant could not give us the names of these two little folkmen.

THE MORNING STAR.

Fourth of July Excursion.

We are pleased to learn that the magnificent steamer Morning Star will make an excursion trip from Louisville to Mt. Vernon, a beautiful town below Henderson, and about two hundred and forty miles from this place—and return—carrying parties at half fare. Leaving here on Friday evening, the 2d prox., at five o'clock, and arriving at Mt. Vernon on Saturday, all who desire to do so, will have ample time to visit Wyandotte Cave and rejoin the boat on her return, either up or down. We know of no better opportunity of spending a delightful Fourth. The Morning Star is an elegant boat, and her officers cautious and accommodating gentlemen, who will make every exertion to render the voyage a pleasant one. The Great Western Star Band has been engaged for the trip, and will enliven the occasion with good music. Everything conducing to the comfort of the inner man will be abundantly provided, and all who trust themselves to the hospitality of Capt. Gilmore may expect a pleasant time.

Furloughed.

Captain John P. Bentley, the popular conductor of the Louisville and Chicago railroad has received three weeks furlough, and designs rusticating with his family at Mammoth Cave and other romantic points.

New Albany vs. Louisville.

On Marshall street, between Jackson and Hancock, was given an immense African ball last night. The affair was intended to be the African sensation of the season. A large number of the colored population of New Albany were there by special invitation. A big band was engaged, at a fabulous price, to furnish the music. Dancing commenced at an early hour. The night being a warm one, things naturally waxed warm, and at about midnight some of New Albany's colored belles commenced "putting on airs" over Louisville's ditto ditto. Several Dinahs got into a dispute for the sole possession of their Chas. Augustuses and William Henrys. A sudden clash of fists and teeth was the result. The fight was going on highly satisfactory to both sides, when Officers Daley and Johnson rushed into the room and requested that "hands" be dealt off to them. When these officers emerged from the house they had at the ends of their fingers about a dozen short coat-tails and as many chignons, belonging to those who had participated in the melee, all of whom found comfortable quarters for the night at the Clay-street station.

Sold.

One of our Metropolitans stepped into an auction room yesterday where was being sold an immense quantity of cheap jewelry, cheap watches and—cheap greenhorns. As the city guardian stepped in the auctioneer was yelling "Going, going at three dollars, going"—holding in his hand a very fair looking watch. The policeman bid half a dollar more, and the watch was knocked down to him. He paid the three and a half dollars, took the watch and went outside to examine his great bargain. His feeling underwent a slight change when he opened the cases. The cases as all there was of it, the "in, sides" or works having been taken out. He felt too badly sold to say anything about it, so, stuffing the shell into his pocket, he strode away.

THE EXCURSION.

The Council Turn Out En Masse.

The members of the Board of Aldermen and Common Council turned out almost entire this morning to go on the excursion over the new Louisville and Cincinnati railroad. A dispatch from the Mayor of Cincinnati to Mayor Bunce was received early in the morning stating that the authorities of that city would receive our city officials in an appropriate manner at Covington and escort them across the river. The Philharmonic band accompanied the excursionists, and a general good time is anticipated for our city law-makers during their stay at Porkopolis. The party will return to-morrow night, or at least as many of them as can tear themselves away from the city of pork and beer.

The Minstrels.

One of the largest audiences ever assembled in old Masonic Temple greeted Emerson & Manning's Minstrels on their opening last night. The performance throughout was one of the best we have ever witnessed. Emerson was compelled to "come out" four times in his great song and dance of "Love Among the Roses." Manning was repeatedly encored, as were also several other members of the company. The singing of Kelly and Fredericks was immense. To-night a powerful bill of sentiment, fun and frolic will be given. Let all who can enjoy a rich treat in the minstrel way not fail to attend Masonic Temple to-night.

The Lion Garden Concert.

It should not be forgotten that the promenade concert of the Orpheus Society, at Lion Garden, comes off this evening. This is a repetition of the concert which was given at the same place some weeks ago, and it is repeated by special request, the first having been a very delightful affair. The Preston-street railroad will take you to the gate of Lion Garden. Tickets to the concert may be had at Knoefel's book store and at the music store of D. P. Faulk. The music this evening will be of the finest description.

Almost a Collision.

Yesterday evening a Walnut-street and a Second-street car came very near colliding at the railroad crossing of Second and Walnut. Both cars were running at 2:40 speed, more or less, and both, at the appearance of danger, whistled down brakes, too late, however, to prevent the locomotive from running into each other, but in time to save their respective trains from wreck. The only damage was a little fright and a few screeches from the female passengers.

The Female High School.

It is hardly necessary to remind our city readers that the annual commencement exercises of the Female High School will take place at Wadsworth Hall this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. The exercises will be of a very interesting character. An immense audience will unquestionably be present—quite as large as the Hall will hold—and the parents and friends of the young ladies constituting the graduating class should go early in order to secure good seats.

The Chinese Arrived.

If any one doubts that the South is in earnest about securing Chinese labor, the following from the Memphis Appeal of yesterday will put those doubts to rest: The steamer "Thompson Dean," which passed down last evening for New Orleans, had on board, looked for the Crescent City, five hundred coolies—the first of what we hope will be a heavy immigration to the South of that kind of labor. Evidently the planters of the Mississippi Valley are waking up to the necessity that exists for responsible and reliable workers, and are determined to avail themselves of what offers so abundantly on our Pacific coast. They will have the Chinese.

U. S. District Court.

The only case before this tribunal to-day is that of Simon Rice against Wm. H. Satterfield and others. This is another war case, in which suit is brought for damages by the plaintiff. Rice was arrested near Powellville, in Bracken county, by Wm. H. Satterfield, at the time city Marshal of Owensville, Bath county, in February, 1866, for the alleged murder of a man during the early part of the war. Satterfield was conveying his prisoner to Morgan county, where the murder was alleged to have been committed, when Rice's son and a party of friends attacked Satterfield and his posse and rescued from them their prisoner, Rice, sr. The plaintiff now brings suit for damages against defendant, claiming that he had no right to arrest him, and that said arrest was not legitimate or legal.

THE COURTS.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

RON. E. S. CRAIG, JUDGE.

TUESDAY MORNING, June 29.

I took my hat and a pleasant set, and a pair of new shoes I got, and an holiday without fear of not.

An when I got to drink to drink, a summer night me by my mind, and as I gave a cunning wink, "Exceller."

Then I punched him on his rightish head, an tried to beat the devil dead, but he poked me back with a sed, "Exceller."

An he took me down to the dirty old jail, an went in court and toll a tale; an I laughin, sed as hee'd me, b'ale, "Exceller."

This is a good plea for plan. To see the Jug cum in an' git up so dignified in his big cheer, an' then turn around to see how lakin; he has a buk sumthin like the bibel, tho' its bigger, an' he puts on specs, an' loks in it, an' then peeps at a feller by the door, an' sez:

"Fleming Keen, sez kness an' disorderly conduct," and the feller goes out an' sez the saim thing to sumbody else, an' then in walks Fleming, the hero uv our story, with his ize red an' hed lakin like chickens had been scratched in it, 'wuz so wrumpled up, an' his hat wuz gone; then the man who holds the dockeyments an' don't ware specs, but huz whiskers on his cheet an' wuz around sed sumthin' to a man with brass buttons on his coat, who toll awful things about ketchen Fleming, an' puttin him in jale; an' then the Jug sez, "let him pa five dollarz and give b'ale fur thirty daz," and Frank wuz then put in a kage, fur aw huz nuzny wuz gone an' he had no friends.

An the Jug sed the saim thing again, an' a nuther man cum in an' tuk a cheer. Tha called him Mikel Oman, but this man had a lawyer who told the Jug that Mikel was a hard warken man, an' he awt to be let go, an' that he would promise to let licker alone, but the Jug sez it wuz against his law to get drunk on the public streets, and ordered Mikel marked down for three dollarz an' b'ale fur thirty daz. An Mikel giv b'ale an' settled up akkounts an' went to the east end uv the city.

At the end uv this sum attornies went out to git a dram, an' the grate American lunk sed wuz around sed sumthin' to a man with brass buttons on his coat, who toll awful things about ketchen Fleming, an' puttin him in jale; an' then the Jug sez, "let him pa five dollarz and give b'ale fur thirty daz," and Frank wuz then put in a kage, fur aw huz nuzny wuz gone an' he had no friends.

What is Democracy?
The Christian Church, through all the ages it has passed, has been troubled with heresy. What was the true faith, was a live question when eccumenical councils sat in the days of the Roman emperors, and that question has lived ever since. Nor are there any cheering indications that this same question, which thus tormented the church in all ages and places, may not continue to be discussed as long as Christianity shall flourish upon the earth. There have been heretics in all times past, and there will be heretics in all times to come. The human mind, as long as it continues to think, will find food for thought that differs, even in allegiance to the Most High, from the pulpit of other minds.
And yet in all the chaos of heresy and schism there has been no want of evidences of the true faith in different ages of Christianity. The doctrines of the Saviour and the Apostles have come down to our own times in the sacred charge of many whom heresy could not swerve from the true faith. And to compare things sacred with things profane, so has it been with the Democratic faith. The good old Democracy of parted days has had much to contend with in its course down the pathway of time. Yet there has never been a time when the true doctrine could not be distinguished from the false—when the advocates of the true faith could not be distinguished from the time-serving heretics who forgot the past and cared not for the future in bending all things to the present.
Some of our contemporaries who occupy positions high in the Democratic temple are now making sad work of the Democracy of our fathers. The Cincinnati Enquirer and the New York World seem to have strayed from the beaten path and to be wandering, we know not whither, into the chaos of heresy. They have lost sight of the old landmarks which Democracy left here and there and everywhere in its proud and glorious conduct of the affairs of our Government in her past and better days, and are setting up new guides, which none who see with the eyes of true faith, recognize. They are leading us into forbidden paths, and are teaching us doctrine never before known or heard of in the great councils which have fashioned the thought and shaped the policy of our country.
The following extract from the Enquirer indicates the time-serving policy which that paper intends to inaugurate in the Democratic ranks if it can:
The Democracy want men who will represent the present and the future—not the dead past. The party cannot be sacrificed upon the altar of pride or antiquated and venerable resentments. Political organizations should take the same measures to secure success that an individual does in ordinary business life. It is an old but true adage that politics sometimes makes us associate with strange bed-fellows; but, nevertheless, in the tide of human vicissitudes, we must accept them.
And the World, in commenting upon this extract, leaves no doubt as to the new issues intended to be made tests of Democratic faith. The following is a specimen of the World's new ideas of new Democracy:
Nothing is more certain than that the reconstructed South, with the negroes all voting, will participate in the next Presidential election. Whether we like it or not we cannot change it. By a vain struggle against it we should merely keep the negro question open as a topic of irritation after it is closed as a practical issue, and repel from the Democratic party multitudes of citizens who have no objection to its cardinal principles. It is not wise to make Northern white men vote wrong, by an abortive and abortive attempt to prevent the Southern negroes from voting at all.
That kind of Democracy may suit the Enquirer and the World, but it does not suit us. We know it not, and will have nothing to do with it. It is not of our creed and it never can be.
We shall never consent to the negro voting in this country. If Democracy cannot triumph without the votes of the negroes, so much the worse for Democracy. It had better never succeed at all than for its success to depend upon such an error in the politics of the country. Ours is a white man's government. It was made so by our fathers. The negro had no say-so in the making of our government, and he shall never have a voice in its conduct with our consent. If the Republican friends of the World and Enquirer won't vote with the Democracy unless the Democracy vote with the negroes, then let both go together; for we would rather have the help of neither than accept the twin.
There has already been too much done for the negro in this country. He has been set free and petted by the government until he is far more worthless than he was as a slave. Allowing him to vote will not make him a better citizen, while it will make ours a much less safe government. After doing so much for the negro it would seem wise to let him do a little for himself. And in any event it is not for the Democracy of our day to join in the unwholesome pean which Radicalism is singing over the robbery committed in freeing the negroes without compensation to their owners. If the infernal orgy must be sung let Democracy at least be silent.
Our Democracy would neither make the negro a witness in court nor a voter at the ballot-box. There are other people in this country quite as good as the negro who are not allowed to vote; and if the African don't like things as he finds them in the white man's government, he can seek a more congenial country. The Democracy profess teaches us to make this country and its blessings peculiar to the white race; and this we intend to do as far as we can. The negro is with us altogether a secondary consideration, and we do not intend to let him darken our Democracy as he seems to be blackening that of the World and Enquirer.

The "colored citizens" of Washington attempted the amusement of another riot a few nights ago, and would have made a formidable affair of it but for the interference of the police. A negro stole thirty dollars from another negro, for which the police attempted to arrest him, but his friends gathered in force. He acknowledged the crime, but defied the police, who were not in force, to take him from the armed gangs. A Washington special to the World says that the details of this and other crimes of the negroes appear in the papers there, which continue to assert that Washington is a quiet city, and that General Howard's lambs do no harm. It is no wonder that the town is half tenantless and business more prostrated than ever in twenty previous years. The negroes in their political clubs, and in private conversation, openly justify the June riot, and threaten its repetition, and their public acts to that effect are recorded there approvingly in Radical papers.
SENATOR SHERMAN at the Ohio Radical convention referred in sharp terms to the corruption in the government when the Democracy controlled its affairs. This is cool, in view of the fact that nearly all the Radicals from the President, who is influenced by gifts, down to Senators who are bribed, are corrupt direct or indirect. There are Radicals who went into the United States Senate a few years ago poor, who are now millionaires. For instance, Pomeroy, of Kansas, who ten or twelve years ago was in indigent circumstances, is now worth millions. Senator Sherman himself was worth but a few thousand dollars, is now a very rich man. He didn't save it out of his pay, for that is scarcely sufficient to pay his board bill. But the Senator is chairman of the finance committee of the Senate, which originates all bills of that character. And rumor has connected the honorable Senator with the operations of the great house of Jay Cooke & Co. There is an old dodge, such as a thief crying "stop thief!"
Mr. MOTLEY is having a nice, quiet time of it in England, and seems to be enjoying himself very much. On the 10th of June he and General Badeau were at a reception given by Mrs. Gladstone, after a dinner party to which they were not invited; and on the previous day the Minister, accompanied by Mr. Charles Dickens and Mr. Willie Collins, paid a visit to Chatham House, where they were received by Major-General Freeman Murray, witnessed dress parade, and were greatly amused by one Sergeant McWhirter, who, in a gymnastic exercise, displayed his agility by "running up a mast eighty feet high with his hands and feet, without any mechanical aid." "It is in such enlightened means as these that the bubbling passions" of our representative at the Court of St. James find vent.
The Tribune parades the income returns of the residents of that city to show that "drift abounds on all sides," and that the business of the city is prosperous and the national wealth increasing. But these same figures show that, in one-half of the districts, the number who return an income over and above the reductions allowed by the law has largely decreased; in short, that those with small incomes are crushed out and are no longer able to make returns, while those with large incomes have increased their profits. Under the present protective system, the wealth and profits are being forced into fewer hands; the rich made richer and the poor poorer. It is an increase of the wealth of the few at the expense of the many.
Is a recent letter from Boston, John W. Forney says he visited New England seventeen years ago "when Democracy predominated in a majority of the States" there, and adds:
Their change in politics has been as marked as the improvement in the intelligence and comfort of their population.
The Boston Post tells us what carried Forney to New England seventeen years ago. "He came," says the Post, to crave favor and patronage from a Democratic President elect, and whose administration he served with the sympathy of a hiring capable of deserting the cause and man as soon as personal interest was supposed to suggest that course.
A NEGRO was hung in South Carolina the other day, and while upon the scaffold said he did not expect to be hung, because, he said, he expected to be arrested by an organization of negroes to which he belonged, and which was pledged to rescue any of their number from such perils as he was in. But for some reason the job failed upon this occasion to do its duty. This organization is universal through the South, and it is that which is giving so much trouble to peaceable and orderly citizens.
CANBY has removed General Newberry, formerly of the Federal army, as Mayor of Petersburg, Virginia. He was removed because he was opposed to the negro candidate for Governor. The action of Canby has its solution in the fact that Grant is for Welles, as he is also for Stokes against Grant. Grant is as mean as Canby (can be).
A FEW pounds of extra fine premium tobacco, which found its way by chance to Paducah, was sold the other day at the rate of $181 per hundred pounds. Why, that's nothing. There was a young woman, and pretty at that, sold here not long since, for about ten thousand dollars a pound.

Tate saints as well as the sinners in England appear to have their wisdom teeth pretty well cut. An attempt is in progress there to obtain the passage of a bill providing for the opening of the British Museum and other like places of amusement on Sundays, and the other day a member of Parliament presented a petition praying for this boon, signed by 40,000 artisans of London. He was somewhat taken aback when another member arose and said that he had proof that a certain agency firm had forged the names of 8,000 persons to this petition; but, in his turn, was dumfounded when a third member showed that the same firm had been employed by the Lord's Day Observance Association to forge 10,000 fictitious signatures to a remonstrance against the proposed measure. This is really delightful, and such pious competition cannot be too highly commended.
THAT prince of spiritualistic humbugs, Mumbler, having been thoroughly exposed before the courts, has given up picture-taking and has vanished from the metropolis. He now appears in the role of an itinerant lecturer, "going about and seeking whom he may devour." He harangues his audiences for an hour or more on the mysteries of the "Summer Land," and then opens a valise and deals out his trashy pictures at the rate of twenty-five cents each. That he is being liberally patronized is but one more proof that the American people delight in being humbugged.

SPECIAL NOTICES.
Words of Weight for Wives and Mothers.
The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, and all complaints of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malarious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in the numerous and distressing cases of indigestion, which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The specific qualities of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of years, render them peculiarly susceptible of irregularity and irritation, which, when neglected, result in the most serious and permanent ailments. The medicinal properties of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires in its structure, and which, when properly administered, will not only correct and nerve, and discarded the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans. j62 3rd

WINTERSMITH'S
WINTERSMITH'S
TONIC SIRUP,
—OR—IMPROVED
Chill Cure,
BEING AN IMPROVEMENT ON HIS
LIMERICK CHILL CURE,
A CERTAIN REMEDY FOR EVERY FORM OF FEVER AND AGUE.
THE CURE IS PERMANENT.
The Chill Once Broken Will Not Return.
Contains No Quinine or Arsenic, nor Any Deleterious Substance Whatever.
This preparation is carefully compounded of purely vegetable ingredients, and never fails, when properly taken, to cure the most obstinate case of fever and ague, neuralgia, and all malarious diseases. Unlike chill remedies generally, it requires no purgative to be taken with it, the medicine itself acting gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowels, effectually removing the cause of the disease, not merely temporarily checking it. Herein consists one great advantage it has over all other preparations. The crowning excellence of this remedy, however, above the permanency and certainty of its cure, is the fact that no injury whatever can arise from its use, as is certain to be the case when quinine or arsenic are taken, which are the principal ingredients of most of the chill medicines now in use. Quinine, acting upon the nervous system, produces, according to our best authorities, "a feeling of tightness or distension of the head, ringing, buzzing or roaring in the ears, partial deafness," &c., and, when the dose is increased, "complete deafness, diminution or loss of sight, dilated or immovable pupil, coma, and great prostration."
Wintersmith's Tonic Sirup leaves the system in a perfectly healthy condition, with no bad effects in any way to be worn off. Another great virtue claimed for this medicine, and wherein consists its superiority over other medicines, is that the cure is permanent. It rarely requires more than a day or two to effectually break the chill, and, once broken, they will not return. Hundreds of letters are daily received testifying to the efficacy and wonderful virtues of this remedy. It is very popular wherever sold, taking the place of any chill remedy it comes in competition with.

The Radical Split in Tennessee and Virginia.

The Cabinet Supports the Stokes and Wells Parties.

Consultation on Cuban Affairs.

A Secret Agent to be Sent to Cuba.

The Grant and Borie Correspondence a Hoax.

THE RADICAL FACTIONS IN TENNESSEE AND VIRGINIA.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Politicians here from Virginia and Tennessee have been very anxious to learn which side the administration would take in the pending contests in these States where the two parties are Republican, one conservative and the other radical. Several pilgrimages have been made here from both sides, and a Republican newspaper here and one in New York have been in doubt which ticket to approve until the President should indicate his views. The matter has been even talked over in Cabinet councils, and Secretary Boutwell declared that there could not be two Republican parties in this country, and that the one that was most radical was deserving of support. The President has backed this up by declaring that he indorses Stokes in Tennessee and Wells in Virginia, and that the Federal patronage shall be distributed accordingly. Congressman Van Wyck and family have left for Virginia to speak for the Radical ticket.

CUBAN BELLEGGUENCE.

Senor Lemus, the Cuban envoy, has had an unofficial interview with the President, Secretaries Rawlins and Boutwell being present. The Secretary of State was not present. Mr. Lemus did not allude to the question of recognition at all, but presented to the executive some important facts relative to the strength and condition of the insurgents. It has transpired as the result of this interview, that the President has decided to send a secret agent to Cuba to make an elaborate report on the state of affairs there with the view of furnishing the administration some definite information on which it can positively act regarding the recognition of the belligerent rights of the Cubans.

THE GRANT-BORIE CORRESPONDENCE.

The President to-day pronounced the correspondence between Secretary Borie and himself on the resignation of the former, as published in last Saturday's New York Herald, to be a bare-faced forgery. So far from accepting Borie's resignation in a curt letter, as represented, he wrote him regretting his departure and complimented him warmly. The President expressed the opinion that the man who got up the forgery ought to be punished.

JOHN HAY OF ILLINOIS.

Pierre, the Secretary of Legation to Spain, has been removed to take place on the arrival of his successor, John Hay, of Illinois, who was Secretary of Legation to Vienna and formerly Secretary to President Lincoln.

THE CASE OF GEN. BURBRIDGE.

In the Criminal Court here the Judge has refused the application to aid by process the arrest of Gen. Burbridge, of Kentucky, and to cause his delivery to the United States Marshal for removal to the State of Missouri, there to be tried before the United States Circuit Court for that district on the charge of receiving $25,000 as a bribe while acting as an agent of the United States Treasury, from certain parties engaged in the manufacture of spirituous liquors in said State, by which act the Government was defrauded. The Judge refused the application, on the ground that neither count of the indictment contained sufficient specific evidence to sustain the charge against the prisoner.

EX-PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

received a large number of calls to-day, including his old acquaintances here. He expressed himself freely regarding the present administration, and declares that it is the weakest the country ever had. He will remain here for several days.

THE INTELLIGENCE.

did not appear to-day according to previous advertisement.

BONDED WAREHOUSE.

Commissioner Dickson telegraphed to-day to Collector Nixon, of the Sixth Kentucky district, that on notice to this office that all taxes are paid and stamps affixed to all spirits in class B warehouse, and that no other bonded goods remain therein, the house will be discontinued and the spirits allowed to remain.

CHICAGO.

Railroad Consolidation—Disastrous Freshets—Loss of Life and Property—The Church Trouble—Mr. Cheney Sustained.

CHICAGO, June 28.—On July 1st a majority of the officers of the Michigan Southern and Lake Shore roads will be transferred from Chicago to Cleveland. This is rendered necessary by the consolidation of the two roads. President Phillips, of the combined roads, will remain in this city.

From all quarters of the northern and central portions of Illinois and from Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana come details of the disastrous results of the late storms. Rivers, creeks, etc., are full of water, while the low lands are nearly covered. Nearly all the railroads centering in Chicago have suffered more or less by the destructive of bridges and the sinking of tracks, and in some instances travel has been suspended. At Pontiac, Ill., John McGregor was drowned yesterday while attempting to save his property. The corn crop has undoubtedly suffered considerable injury from wet weather. Wheat will suffer in many places by rank growth. The rust in some of the crops (wheat) is very bad, and the crop of wheat will be largely lost, notwithstanding some drawbacks.

A meeting of the wardens and vestrymen of Christ church (Rev. Dr. Cheney) was held Saturday night, at which the following preamble and resolutions were adopted: Whereas, Our said recorder has the unqualified confidence of his vestry and people, and that in all his ministerial acts and doings he is guided by prayerful and conscientious regard for his duty as minister of Christ in his visible church, and is entitled to our support, we therefore,

Resolved, That we hereby tender our record our full sympathy, and promise him in future, as in the past, our cordial and hearty support.

FRANCE.

THE EMPEROR'S TOUR IN THE PROVINCES.

PARIS, June 28.—The Emperor yesterday visited the city of Beauvais, and was received with enthusiasm by the people. The Mayor and Bishop of Beauvais received the Emperor at the city gates and conducted him to the Hotel de Ville, where they presented an address of welcome. His Majesty, in reply to the Mayor's speech, returned thanks for the welcome he had received from the municipality and people. He reminded the Mayor of his presence in the city at the inauguration of the statue of the heroine Jeanne d'Arc in 1880, 18 years ago. He was pleased to see the progress which the city and department of which it was the capital had made since that period in agriculture and industry. He declared that this prosperity was mainly due to the order which for the past 17 years had reigned in France, and he was certain that this condition of order would never be seriously disturbed.

In response to the Bishop, the Emperor said that the addresses of Bishops, couched in the language of piety, were always received with deference. If his prayers were heard, religion would be honored by a happy people, and France would be great and prosperous.

HOW OPPOSITION PAPERS ARE SERVED.

Henry Rochefort, editor of La Lanterne, has been convicted of a charge of illegally introducing his journal into France, and sentenced to three years' imprisonment and to a fine of 5,000 francs. To these penalties are added the forfeiture of his rights of citizenship for three years, including the right to vote in any election or occupy a seat in the Corps Legislatif.

MM. Limousin and Jourdan, editors of the Siecle, have been fined 500 francs each, and the editor of the Opinion Nationale has been condemned to one month's imprisonment with a fine of 500 francs, all for violations of the Press law.

OPENING OF THE CORPS LEGISLATIF.

PARIS, June 28.—The session of the Corps Legislatif was opened to-day. The Emperor was not present and M. Rouher, Minister of State, made the opening speech. He said the Chamber was convened to verify its authority. The renewal of the Corps Legislatif by universal suffrage afforded a natural opportunity for the nation to express its thoughts, aspirations and wants, but the political results of that manifestation should not be precipitate. The Government would present resolutions and projects of law in order to realize the wishes of the country.

THE DANISH WEST INDIES.

Editorial articles appear in the Monitor and Pays to-day on the sale of the Danish West Indian Islands to the United States. The two journals concur in declaring that honor and self interest alike demand of the American Government the faithful execution of the treaty concluded with Denmark.

PROGRESS OF THE GREAT EASTERN.

BREST, June 28.—Up to last evening the Great Eastern had made 697 knots from Brest and had paid out 775 knots of cable. There has been no fault whatever in the cable. The interruption noted a few days, it is now ascertained, was owing to an imperfection in the land connection. The signals are perfect. All well.

ENGLAND.

OUR INDIAN POLICY.

LONDON, June 28.—Times to-day has an article reviewing the policy of the United States Government in dealing with the Indian tribes. It praises its patience and forbearance in the past and believes the course the Government is now driven to adopt to be unavoidable. No terms of peace, the Times thinks, are practicable with unmitigated and almost past irreclaimable savages. They must disappear or the American nation will be checked in its growth and progress.

LONDON, June 28.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Low, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced that her Majesty's Government intended to propose quarterly payments of the interest on public securities.

ITALY.

ALLOCATION BY THE POPE.

ROME, June 28.—The Pope delivered an allocution yesterday, in which he reviewed the condition of the Church in Italy and other countries. He deplores the Italian law subverting clerical students to military conscription as an infringement of the immunities, rights and liberty of the Church. He dwells on the evils affecting the Church in Austria and Hungary, based on complaints of bishops in those countries. The events in Spain give cause for sadness and mourning. The zeal of the bishops in Poland, undimmed by Russian persecution is a source of consolation. The Allocution concludes with these words to the enemies of Christ: "Consider the fate of His enemies. Let us pray that they may be restored to the path of justice, and that the church may be crowned with fresh triumphs."

Installation of Captain General De Rodas.

His Platform—"Spain, Justice, Morality."

The Insurgents Capture the Garrison of Sabana.

The Patriot Generals Form a Junction.

HAVANA, June 28.—Gen. D. E. Rhodes arrived in the harbor this morning. He brings with him a force of 500 regular troops. The volunteers have assembled and are making preparations to receive the new Captain General. He will land at noon.

HAVANA, June 28, P. M.—Captain-General De Rodas landed at 11 o'clock this morning and was quickly received with only the customary ceremonies. As soon as the Captain-General was installed in the palace he issued a proclamation. He says the platform of his line of conduct is embraced in three words: "Spain, justice, morality." He thanks the volunteers for services they have rendered in the cause of order, justice and public rights, and tells them they ought to feel proud of their past action. He closes with an allusion to the army and navy.

The Diast publishes an article full of the usual compliments for a new Captain General.

The Prensa mentions the fact of Gen. De Rodas' arrival in a brief article.

The Voz de Cuba approves of the proclamation in every respect, and hopes De Rodas will act here as he did at Manila and Cadiz.

The insurgents, 1,000 strong, attacked an encampment containing the garrison of Sabana Nerve, near Puerto Principe, on the 29th inst., and captured the entire force, some 80 men. Gen. Letana rallied from Puerto Principe to their succor, but arrived too late. He found the rebels had destroyed the encampment and left four Spanish soldiers dead on the ground. Gen. Letana returned to Puerto Principe on the 21st.

The Prensa to-day acknowledges that news lately received from Puerto Principe, Neuquitas and Guebara is unsatisfactory.

Advices of the 21st are received from Santiago. A number of filibusters who landed from the schooner Grapadot, and who subsequently fell into the hands of troops, had been executed there. Among them were Chas. Speakman, of Aurora, Indiana, Albert Wythe, of New York, Carlos Martinez and Harvey Esteves.

Three filibusters, named Pedro Haldex, Jose Plesna, and Gregorio Rodriguez, were shot on the 19th inst. near Granaman.

Reinforcements left Neuquitas on the 24th for Puerto Principe.

Gen. Escudé is sick.

The general headquarters of the insurgents are established on the Elcerado plantation, and it is reported that the Cuban Generals Quenda, Valdez, and Benbena have met there and united their forces.

Col. Benegassish arrived here in bad health. Cholera continues in the towns of the interior. Reports say that a majority of the men who landed from the Porot and from other vessels have either been killed by the troops or died from disease.

Gen. Rivera remains at Puerto del Padre. The insurgents have burnt Alayala plantation, owned by Col. Albar.

Several skirmishes are reported in various parts of the island, resulting favorably for the Government troops.

Sugar firm; business bright and prices unchanged.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Accounts from Cuba state that the cholera is very fatal among the Spanish troops, who suffer for medicines and food, their communication being cut off by the patriots. Their reinforcements have been driven back with a heavy loss. The town of Palmedas has been captured from the Spaniards with their provisions and arms. An expedition of six hundred men has been sent by the United States to the United States. The Cuban army. The Cubans are in high spirits and in good health, occupying the line divides.

NEW YORK.

New York, June 28.—On the 19th inst. a man named Lewis K. Cole, representing himself as agent of a Chicago Life Insurance Company, rented a portion of an office in the basement of the Ocean National Bank. The only piece of furniture he put in beside a desk was a large, high case. Yesterday noon the janitor of the bank found everything safe. Since which a hole was cut through from the basement to the back office of the bank by boring a hole with a large quantity of fine tools which they have left behind them, forced and blew open several safes, and carried off their contents. Everything was found in confusion this morning. The bank officials state that only about $20,000 in Government bonds belonging to the bank have been stolen, the thieves leaving a bag containing $30,000 in gold in one of the safes, and over $120,000 in gold certificates, and clearing house exchanges for $30,000 untouched. The securities deposited in the bank by customers and about $30,000 worth of checks were carried off. No clue to the burglars.

The amount of private deposits stolen from the Ocean Bank is stated by bank authorities not to exceed $250,000. The bank is not responsible for these losses, which are mainly if not bonds. A reward of $4,000 is offered for the return of those taken belonging to the bank itself, about 25 twenties of 1867, of $1,000 each, and 2 five-twenties of 1862, of $500 each. The affair is in the hands of detectives.

THE CUBAN FILIBUSTERS.

There is little additional information as to the frustrated Cuban expedition. The men who were to have gone on the Catherine Whiting are probably hiding on Long Island and up North river. Rumor says another expedition is being fitted out on Long Island Sound. The passengers are said to be in the vicinity of Lloyd's Neck. Other reports say the Catherine Whiting's expected passengers were landed at some point to prevent their struggling. In the hope another vessel would be ready to take them tonight. Marshal Barlow has taken steps to ascertain their hiding places, and prevent the departure of any hostile expeditions in future. The Whiting is closely watched by two revenue cutters.

A Certain and Specific

REMEDY

—FOR—

Calculus Gravel, Non-retention or Incontinence of the Urine, Mucous Discharges, Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Inflammation of the Bladder, Gleet, Diabetes, and all Diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female.

Prepared with Great Care and Skill by One of the Most Eminent Chemists of the Country.

Superior to Any

PREPARATION OF BUCHU

Ever Offered to the Public.

This highly concentrated extract is carefully made by displacement, without the use of heat, from the best Buchu leaves, combined with Pareira Brava, Juniper Berries and Cubebs, and is offered to the public as a safe, sure and speedy cure for all derangements of the bladder, kidneys, etc.

The common method of extracting the properties of medicinal herbs, roots, etc., by heat, is now known in many cases to injure, if not entirely destroy, their efficacy. By careful displacement with the proper menstruum, I have avoided this error, and have here provided an extract so concentrated that the dose, though small, contains more of the properties and virtues of the drugs than other preparations of the same kind on the market.

It contains all the virtues of the fresh Buchu leaves greatly increased in its efficacy by being combined with the other ingredients in such a way as to add greatly to its curative powers.

Its good effects are immediate, and the patient is encouraged to persist in its use in chronic cases until a cure is effected.
